

David O. Brown
Chief of Police
Dallas Police Department

Chief David O. Brown is a twenty-seven year veteran of the Dallas Police Department. As Chief of Police, he commands a department comprised of over 4,200 employees (3,600 sworn) and oversees an annual operating budget of $410 million dollars.

Chief Brown holds a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration and a Master of Business Administration degree in Strategic Leadership. He also holds Master Peace Officer and Police Instructor certifications from the State of Texas. Chief Brown is a graduate of the Federal Bureau of Investigations (FBI) National Academy, Senior Management Institute for Police sponsored by the Police Executive Research Forum (PERF) and completed the United States Secret Service Dignitary Protection Seminar in Washington, D.C.

At the request of the City Manager, Chief Brown served as an Interim Assistant City Manager for the City of Dallas and directed operations in the areas of Code Compliance, Environmental & Health Services, Equipment & Building Services, Library Services, Park & Recreation, and Cultural Affairs. These departments were comprised of approximately 2700 employees with a combined annual operating budget of 233 million dollars.

As the leader of the Dallas Police Department, Chief Brown brings innovative planning ideas, leadership ability, proven management theories, and problem-solving techniques to the executive level. He holds active memberships with the International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP), Police Executive Research Forum (PERF), National Organization of Black Law Enforcement Executives (NOBLE), and the Dallas Chapter of the Black Police Association.