Capital Murder Offense Remains a Mystery New Reward Offered

Dallas Police Homicide Detectives are still seeking the public's assistance in locating and identifying the 3 suspects responsible for the shooting death of Mr. Phillip Washington back on January 6, 2008. Mr. Washington was slain in the parking lot of the State Bank and Trust in the 4200 Block of North Central Expressway as he was making a deposit early that morning.

Images of the suspects below were taken from surveillance cameras during the commission of the robbery. These suspects should be considered armed and dangerous.

A $10,000.00 reward has now been offered, $5,000 by Schepps Dairy and $5,000 by Crime Stoppers, for information leading to the arrest and indictment of the suspects. If anyone has information related to this offense or the suspects please call the Dallas Police Department's Homicide Unit at (214) 671-3661.
