National Crime Victims' Rights Week

Monday, April 11, 2016, will kick off the National Crime Victims' Rights week. The Dallas Police Department will join forces with Equality Texas, the largest statewide organization fighting for LGBT equality, to launch a new campaign to battle LGBT discrimination and bring attention to the series of hate crimes targeting gay Texans in Dallas. There will be a News Conference on April 11th at 10 AM in the Donald A. Stafford Media Conference Room located on the 2nd floor of the Jack Evans Police Headquarters, 1400 S. Lamar Street, Dallas, Texas 75215.

Also in attendance, the Dallas County Sheriff's Department, the Dallas County District Attorney's office, Dallas City Council Member Adam Medrano and recent victims of hate crime.

For more information, contact the Media Relations Unit at (214) 671-4065 or Susan Risdon, Equality Texas, at (214) 226-6741.
